For it has got noised 'round a bit what she is going to do.

Some of the spitciul critters say her chest tones are a fright.

And that she'll not be able to get her dynamics right.

And although the church choir says our daughter ought to go and do her fancy singin' in some movin' pieter show.

When she gets up to sing a piece they try to treat her nice.

But their applause most always sounds like some one crackin' tee.

But she must take more lessons, for that is the only way.

For folke were jealous of Calve and Melba just the same

Before they was grand onry stars and sang their way to fame.

But still it gives us quite a shock, In spite of all of them things To hear the other teachers knock When Angelina sings.
